World Geography for Educators

GEOG 65000-01L Summer I 2020 (8 weeks)

Welcome to the online version of World Regional Geography. This summer you will be exploring the world's cultural regions through websites, online videos, and online writing. This course is entirely online so will be important for you to build yourself a schedule for completing your work each week. By the end of this course, you should be familiar with aspects of the physical, cultural, economic, urban, and population geographies of the world's regions, and to where and how this content appears in the New York State Social Studies Scope and Sequence.

Video Assignments:

There is no textbook for this course. Most of your grade will be based on essays on each world region. Each week's work is in a folder. The folders include the following:

- Each folder has two assignments—one content-based and one lesson plan.
- I will have an introductory video explaining the week's video assignments, videos and lesson plan.
- I have posted a number of videos and websites for each world region. I expect you to watch the videos, taking notes as you go. Most are YouTube links so they are easier to access on any platform. Some are lectures, some are documentaries, and some are fun introductions and descriptions of the geographies of the region.
- Each folder comprises 12.5% of your grade—6.25% for the content assignment and 6.25% for the lesson plan. I have posted a rubric for each assignment. I have provided a written description of the assignment, and I will explain in the week's opening video what I expect so that you are clear as to what you are to focus on in your writing assignment and lesson plan.
- Most weeks also include optional map quizzes. Successful quizzes add 5 points to your essay.
- I do accept late assignments as explained later in this syllabus, and I do allow you to revise and resubmit for an improved grade. However, since they are extra credit, I will only accept map quizzes by the due date.
- Essay assignments are similar to DBQ essays for the Global History and Geography Regents and the US History and Government Regents, but my expectations are much higher since you are graduate students and preparing to teach these courses.

Lesson Plans

In addition to the weekly essays, you will be creating lesson plans that incorporate the theme of the region into one of the following courses as appropriate:

- Global History and Geography (GHG) (9th and 10th grade history curriculum)

- US History and Government (11th grade history curriculum—Folder 1 ONLY)
- 7th or 8th grade Social Studies curriculum (Folder 1 ONLY)
- 6th grade Social Studies curriculum (Eastern Hemisphere ONLY. Latin America is 5th grade.)
- I am flexible on the format as long as all components are present and all supporting materials are included.
- For those of you who have never taken a geography course, I have included a lecture video that introduces the 5 key themes in geography. Make sure you watch this so you know the various ways you can address the geographic concepts in your required content.

I have created a tab that contains the state's scope and sequence for each of these topics. I have become very familiar with these documents. In addition to teaching at Hunter, I teach earth science at a private Pre-K3-12 school. Since the state restricts me from grading my earth science students' regents exams, I am the lead grader for the Global and US regents exams, and I mentor the middle school social studies teacher. (FYI for new teachers—you can't grade your own students' regents exams. State rules to keep grading honest.)

I have provided you with a rubric that includes all the components that should be in a lesson plan. You may use the Hunter format if you have taken the course that teaches it. If not, you may create a document that includes all the essential items.

As will be noted in each folder, your lesson needs to be between 40-45 minutes, including a Do Now/Bell work to allow you to take attendance and get students focused. It is okay to have a multi-day plan. I have been a classroom teacher for 7 years and a college professor for 26 years. I have a good sense of what you can do in 42 minutes (periods at my school).

I will set up a "live" session during the first week to explain the components of a lesson plan for those who have not yet taken the pedagogy class and still have questions after the explanations I provide. This "live" session will be recorded for those unable to attend and made available via Blackboard.

Additional Rules for Lesson Plans:

- There will be points deducted for late work without a legitimate documentable reason such as a medical emergency or a death in the family.
- I will let you know in advance—for learning/performance outcomes, make sure you use measurable verbs (I will deduct points if I see the word "understand").
- The lesson plans MUST BE MORE THAN A MAP EXERCISE and must respond to the specific prompt I give you. Just adding a mapping activity does not make it geography.

Learning Outcomes:

- Students will be able to critically think and critically write about key themes in regions across the globe
- Students will be able to discuss the relationship between the physical and human geographies of the world's major regions
- Students will be able to identify patterns of migrations by examining the origins and diffusion patterns of cultural traits such as language, religion, foods, and forms of dress.

- Students will be able to develop lesson plans that integrate geography into global history lessons.

Grading:

- Each essay is worth 6.25%. Each lesson plan is worth 6.25%.
- Your final exam is worth 12.5% of your grade.
- Folders will be due on Mondays by 10 pm. I will do my best to give you feedback by Thursday.
- You will have until the following Thursday to submit a revised version of that week's essay and/or the lesson plan in response to my feedback for an improved grade if you receive less than 100% on the assignment.
- Each assignment is programmed for up to 2 submissions. If a third is necessary for technical reasons, we will deal with it on a case-by-case basis.
- In order to qualify to revise and resubmit for an improved grade, the initial submission must be submitted on time, except in cases of legitimate documentable emergencies.

Several of the folders contain one or more map games you can complete for extra credit. To receive credit, please submit a screenshot of your successful score (at least 90% correct) along with your essay. To receive credit, extra credit must be submitted on time.

Due Dates for folders:

June 1: Folder 1: US and Canada

June 8: Folder 2: Latin America and the Caribbean

June 15: Folder 3: Africa and Southwest Asia

June 22: Folder 4: Europe and Russian Domain

June 29: Folder 5: Central Asia and East Asia

July 6: Folder 6: South Asia and Southeast Asia

July 13: Folder 7: Australia and Oceania

July 18: Last day to submit any late or revised assignments.

July 16-20: Online Final Exam Available. It is a timed exam with only one entry but I'm giving you flexibility as to when you go in to take it.

Submitting Assignments:

All essays and lesson plans must be uploaded in the appropriate location in that week's assignment folder. The rubric is connected to the specific assignment so lesson plans must be uploaded to the lesson plan dialog box and essays to the essay dialog box.

All assignments will be checked by SafeAssign for plagiarism. To access the assignments folders, open "Assignments", then that week's folder, then click on the assignment title to open the dialog box and see the rubric. Assignments and extra credit screenshots submitted in any other manner, including email, will not be graded.

Syllabus Change Policy

Except for changes that substantially affect implementation of the evaluation (grading) statement, this syllabus is a guide for the course and is subject to change with advance notice. If changes are made to the syllabus, I will notify you via email through Blackboard. It is essential that you have your correct email linked to your Blackboard account and that you check your Hunter or other Blackboard-linked email regularly. Bounced emails will not be an acceptable excuse for not being aware of changes or any other communications to the class.

Hunter College statement on Academic Integrity:

Hunter College regards acts of academic dishonesty (e.g., plagiarism, cheating on examinations, obtaining unfair advantage, and falsification of records and official documents) as serious offenses against the values of intellectual honesty. The College is committed to enforcing CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity and will pursue cases of academic dishonesty according to the Hunter College Academic Integrity Procedures. Plagiarism, dishonesty, or cheating in any portion of the work required for this course will be punished to the full extent allowed according to Hunter College regulations.

If the SafeAssign report returns showing evidence of significant plagiarism, you will receive a zero for that assignment and I will contact the Dean of Students for disciplinary action. Plagiarism is theft of words and ideas and is taken very seriously by Hunter College.

ADA Policy:

In compliance with the American Disability Act of 1990 (ADA) and with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Hunter College is committed to ensuring educational parity and accommodations for all students with documented disabilities and/or medical conditions. It is recommended that all students with documented disabilities (Emotional, Medical, Physical, and/or Learning) consult the Office of Accessibility, located in Room E1214B, to secure necessary academic accommodations. For further information and assistance, please call: (212) 772- 4857 or (212) 650-3230.

Hunter College Policy on Sexual Misconduct
