Subject: work agreement

Lerone,

As we talked about before, I need you to agree to the following while working on my research project:

Without my written consent, you will not share the project information (including presenting to the public or posting on the Internet) with anyone, and you will not use the project information for your papers or thesis. The project information includes but not limit to GPS and GIS data made available to you for working on the project, grant proposals, existing programming codes, and programming codes you are compensated/paid to develop for the project. The project information does not include published articles.

You could reply this email and say that you agree. Thanks.

Best,
